Fill the ice tray thoroughly with low-pressure water, keeping it at a safe distance from the faucet spout.

Quickly turn the ice tray upside down to seal it automatically.

Place it in the freezer.

Start from one corner and push each ice cube out one by one by breaking the ice tray.